

House of Representatives

- The President of the Republic may appoint no more than 5% of the members.
- The term of membership in the House of Representatives is five calendar years, commencing from the date of its first session.

---

Nevertheless, such member may run for candidacy in either of the following cases

A. The expiry of the legislative term during which the decision to revoke his/her membership was issued.

B. The issuance by the House of Representatives of a decision nullifying the disqualifying effect of revocation of membership due to breach of duties. In such case, the Decision of the House shall be issued with a two-thirds majority, in the manner prescribed in the Rules of Procedure of the House.

- Provided that the candidates with the above-listed designations along with other candidates include no less than seven women

➤ Provided that the candidates with the above-listed designations along with other candidates include no less than twenty-one women

Election Threshold

Under the list system, the electoral list securing the absolute majority of the number of valid votes cast in the election shall be declared elected.

Under the individual-seat system, the candidate securing the absolute majority of valid votes cast in his/her constituency shall be declared elected.